

Nasser Regime Getting Shaky Says Observers

By PETER WEBB

LONDON (UP)—Egypt is heading for a major political and economic crisis which possibly could unseat President Gamal Abdul Nasser and replace him with another military dictator, qualified observers just back from the Middle East reported today.

The crisis is expected to reach its peak about May this year, they said.

These observers say there is now more outspoken criticism of Nasser's regime in Cairo—among all classes of the population—than at any time since King Farouk was ousted in 1952.

They also said a number of army officers, including former National Guidance Minister Salah Salem, had been placed under arrest, on suspicion of plotting an anti-Nasser coup.

Despite Cairo denials that Salem was under arrest, the sources said that he was known to have been relieved of command of the Suez garrison shortly after the Anglo-French military intervention last November and the blocking of the Suez Canal.

Egyptian experts estimate that the cost-of-living for the average consumer has risen from 5 to 10 per cent, while shortages of kerosene, fuel oil, pharmaceutical products, industrial spare parts and Western consumer goods are gradually becoming acute. In most of Egypt kerosene is the only fuel for power, heat and light.

Most of Egypt's economic difficulties stem from her shortage of foreign exchange, especially with the Western world. This presents a problem in buying the items needed to keep the economy in operation.

When Nasser nationalized the Suez Canal on July 26 last year Britain, France and America immediately "froze" Egypt's sterling, franc and dollar assets.

These amounted to more than 10 million pounds sterling ($280 million); between $35-40 million in U. S. currency and large franc deposits in France.

Egypt hinted today that insistence on the Dulles plan to get Israeli troops out of Egypt might jeopardize King Saud's efforts to explain the Eisenhower doctrine to the Arab rulers later this month.

Egyptian sources also said Egypt was ready to fight if Israel troops continued to refuse to leave Egyptian territory. They warned that such a war might trigger a major Middle East conflict involving the world's great powers.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was meeting Israeli Ambassador Eban in Washington today to clarify certain points of his plan. The Israeli cabinet was reported to have accepted Dulles' plan but to have raised certain conditions.

The Dulles plan calls for Israeli withdrawal from the Egyptian fortress at Sharm El Sheikh on the Gulf of Aquaba and also from the Gaza strip. The United States would declare the gulf an international waterway in order to protect Israeli shipping, and would work to get United Nations forces to take over Gaza.

Washington dispatches said the State Department told Israel that there was good reason to believe Egypt will go along with the Dulles proposal despite adverse statements from Cairo. But a flood of new critical comment came from Cairo. The Egyptian cabinet was reported to have accepted Dulles' plan at a critical moment when Egypt's Arab League is scheduled to discuss the Eisenhower doctrine, King Saud, Hussein of Jordan, President Gamal Abdul Nasser of Egypt and Syrian President Shukri al-Kuwatli are to meet in Cairo late this month.

SKULL PRACTICE — Looking like one of the grotesque masks seen in European fiesta parades, a recently found mastodon skull is checked over by Dr. Archie McAlpine, Notre Dame geology professor. The skull was discovered near Elkhart, Ind., about 18 feet below the surface. A rib, leg bones and several vertebrae were also found. Mastodons, long-haired, tusked, elephant-like prehistoric creatures, roamed the region between 3,000 and 10,000 years ago.

Apparently Spring Has Arrived for Mr. Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (UP)—There are some actresses you fall in love with the first time you see them on stage or screen, but if you meet them in person you soon have a desire to dropkick them over the horizon. Audrey Hepburn isn't that type at all. She gives you the unreasonable feeling that all the years of your life to that moment have been utterly wasted.

I was sitting in the living room of her hotel suite wondering whether 1957 would turn out to be a good year for rheumatism, when the door opened and Miss Hepburn entered.

She didn't walk across the floor she floated like a moonbeam. Her brown hair shimmered in a lacy mist around her fair face. I took one look and for the 921st time in my life fell hopelessly in love with a complete stranger.

Or was she a stranger? I felt I had known her forever.

Then Miss Hepburn did something for which I now nominate her for another Academy Award. She paused, her blue eyes widened as she looked into my face—lined by years of noble living and lack of proper exercise—and a bit breathlessly she gave this immortal line:

"I have a feeling I know you from before. Haven't we met somewhere, sometime?"

"No, I'm afraid not," my mouth murmured, but my heart said silently: "Don't listen to him, little Audrey. He's an liar. He met you before, many times—and he knows."

New Red Party Is Not Fooling U.S.
By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (UP)—The first question that can be fairly put to the newly reorganized American Communist party is: Whom do you think you're kidding?

All the party did at its New York convention this week was to rearrange the furniture to make it self look like a native, national American party, concerned only with American welfare and no longer a Russian agent.

That's exactly what Moscow a year ago told Western Communist parties to do. The reason was simple: everywhere they had run into stone walls and their membership was dwindling.

If they could change their front they might be able to work with and infiltrate, other groups—like labor, Socialists, liberals—which would have nothing to do with them so long as they were plainly Moscow errand boys.

Thus at the very moment of declaring itself its own man at last, the American party was following the new Russian post-Stalin line just as slavishly as it had followed Stalin while he was alive.

The Russians—after seeing what a little taste of independence had done among Polish and Hungarian Communists who had taken Moscow's advice too literally—did not want other parties to go to far.

The American Communist party didn't go too far. Since Russia's bloody intrusion in Hungary, the party's newspaper, the Daily Worker, under the editorship of John Gates, had been critical of Moscow. Its press was barred from that convention in New York. But it can't be said on the best authority that

Dock Union Leaders Stall Negotiations

By RAY KOHN

NEW YORK —Internal strife among dock union leaders has stalled negotiations aimed at settling the Northeast coast waterfront strike.

A meeting yesterday of the 110-man bargaining committee of the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) erupted into a bolt by leaders of three powerful Manhattan locals.

When the dissident group of about two dozen stalked out of the meeting room, ILA President William V. Bradley shouted: "Alright—go ahead! either follow me and stay in, or go out!"

The dissenters, headed by Harold Bowers, whose local controls the luxury liner piers along the Hudson River, went back inside. A few minutes later, the union recessed talks until 11 a. m. today.

Ports from Portland, Maine, to Hampton Roads, Va., stand idle by the strike of 45,000 longshoremen who went out last Tuesday after expiration of an 80-day Taft-Hartley Act injunction. The injunction halted a nine-day East and Gulf port strike on Nov. 24.

For the past two days the union has been mulling over the "final" offer made by the employers, the 170-member New York Shipping Association and Brooklyn dock boss Anthony (Tough Tony) Anastasia apparently are willing to accept the terms and end the walkout.

Outlook on Settling Dock Strike Varied
By RAY KOHN

NEW YORK (UP)—The outlook for an end to the Northeast Coast waterfront strike continued to teeter between optimism and despair as new talks were set for today.

Since the start of the strike last Tuesday there have been alternate flurries of hope and pessimism emanating from mediators, employers and the striking independent International Longshoremen's Association.

Yesterday was no exception. High hopes early in the day lapsed into an impasse. Later federal mediator Robert H. Moore said the parties were within "kissing distance."

The 170-member employer group, the New York Shipping Association, foresaw a strike settlement during the day. ILA President William V. Bradley commented: "We hope to fight it out tonight."

But last night, after negotiations recessed, the union appeared to take a dim view of what the employers termed their "final offer."

That was tempered, however, by ILA counsel Louis Waldman, who indicated progress had been made at the meeting, and added: "There has been no definite turnaround."

"We are wrestling with problems of draftsmanship and the meeting of minds on three or four items that have not yet been related."

A bit earlier, mediator Moore had termed the negotiations in "a critical phase which, if there is no agreement tonight, is very apt to result in a deadlock situation."

Meanwhile a survey of the struck ports— from Portland, Maine, to Hampton Roads, Va.—showed the walkout by 45,000 longshoremen was costing shipping and allied industries about three billion dollars a day.

President Accepts Ross' Resignation
By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower has accepted swiftly the resignation of Robert T. Ross as assistant secretary of defense. Ross has been questioned by a Senate committee about military contracts awarded to firms headed by relatives.

Ross told Eisenhower he had done nothing wrong or improper, but "I feel that my future effectiveness in the office 'has been impaired.'"

Within a few hours after being informed last night of Ross' letter of resignation, the President wrote him a three-paragraph letter accepting the resignation, effective Feb. 20.

Ross, whose wife is president of Wyn Enterprises, Inc., and whose brother-in-law H. D. Wyn heads affiliated firms, has been on a self-requested leave of absence since Jan. 31. Ross himself has been an officer of several of the companies, but said he severed all those connections in 1952 when he was elected to Congress.

Arkansas sales tax was increased from 2 to 3 per cent today.

Talks Man Into L. R. Jail by Telephone
ST. JOSEPH, Mich. (UP)—Sheriff Erwin H. Kubuth talked a man into Little Rock, Ark., into jail by telephone yesterday.

As a result, 33-year-old Sanford Anderson of St. Joseph, Mich., is held for return to Michigan on bad check charges.

Sheriff Kubuth of Berrien County said he got a letter with a New Orleans postmark from Anderson yesterday, admitting Anderson had cashed 11 worthless checks for $1,357 in two hours here Feb. 2 and taken off in a stolen car.

In his letter, the sheriff said Anderson, a parolee from two previous bad check convictions, "poured out his troubles and said drink was his problem."

Five hours after the letter arrived, Kubuth said Anderson telephoned from Little Rock. The sheriff suggested the one-time trusty in his jail go to Little Rock police and give up. He did.

Paroled in June 1955, Anderson was working as a truck driver when he disappeared—along with 500 blank checks taken from the firm. A fellow worker's car disappeared at the same time but was found abandoned later in East Chicago, Ind.

Kubuth said Anderson didn't tell him how many checks he had left. Anderson had been sought since his disappearance. He was sentenced to 7 to 14 years and 5 to 10 years on bad check charges in 1951. Before being paroled in 1955 he had been assigned to Kubuth by Southern Michigan Prison as a trusty to work around the Berrien County jail.

Truman May Visit Greece and Turkey
By DONALD J. GONZALES

WASHINGTON (UP)—Former President Truman is considering an informal invitation to visit Greece and Turkey early next month, it was learned today. President Eisenhower has warmly endorsed the idea of such a visit.

Mr. Truman had been asked by the two nations whether he would attend ceremonies commemorating the 10th anniversary of his historic U. S. aid to Greece and Turkey to combat Communism.

The idea of asking the former President to make a trip originated in Athens and Ankara. Mr. Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles have given the proposal their strong endorsement.

Behind-the-scenes liaison on the Truman trip indicates that a major move is underway to heal the foreign policy breach between the Republican and Democratic parties.

Mr. Truman on at least two occasions has given his warm approval to the Eisenhower doctrine aimed at saving the Middle East from Communism. He has urged that Congress give speedy approval to the program and has said he would vote for it if he were a member of the Senate.

Mr. Truman, it was learned, first heard of the proposed invitation Monday night when Dulles, with Mr. Eisenhower's approval, telephoned Mr. Truman at Islamorada in the Florida Keys. Mr. Truman is vacationing there with Mrs. Truman.

Dulles informed Mr. Truman that the Greek and Turkish governments would like to invite him to visit the two countries for the anniversary ceremonies. The week of March 10 was suggested for the ceremonies.

Mr. Truman, it was understood, was assured that both the President and Dulles thought the trip would be a "good idea."

Mr. Truman was reported to have expressed "interest" in the proposed trip. But he was unable to give a quick answer because of an already heavy schedule which would have to be rearranged. He promised an early reply after checking with his staff.

Dulles followed up the telephone inquiry with a formal letter to the former president.

McCaskill Is District Winner in RCI Contest

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — McCaskill community in Hempstead county was selected today winner of the Southwest district competition in the Rural Community Improvement Program.

McCaskill was a slight winner over South Central, Clark county, Melrose-Bellevue, Sevier county, and Sulphur Hill community, Garland county. In taking the district honors, McCaskill will compete with Tollville, Prairie county, Southeast district winner, Antioch, Craighead county, Northeast district champion and Mount Comfort, Washington county, first place community in the Northwest district—for state honors in the Rural Community Improvement Program. A joint undertaking by the Agricultural Extension Service, Arkansas Press Association and Arkansas Power and Light company, the program is judged on community improvements, progress made in home management and improvement and development of sound systems in farming on individual farms, all occurring in 1956.

State judging will begin Tuesday when the judges will personally visit Tollville. Wednesday the group will journey to Antioch and will complete their judging the next Tuesday and Wednesday by visiting McCaskill and Mount Comfort, in that order. Judges in the state competition will be Mrs. Hazel C. Jordan, state home demonstration agent, William G. "Bill" Conley, secretary-manager, Arkansas Press Association, and Ross Mauney, Arkansas Power and Light company.

McCaskill, a community containing some 70 families, derives its main source of income from agriculture. They boast hundreds of acres of cover crops, additional stock ponds, miles of fence improvement, and 15 farms with a more attractive appearance.

Among many improvements attained for the good of the whole community were new equipment added to the community building for preparation, two highways excellent farm-to-market roads, post office completely remodeled, the removal of several eye-sores in the form of vacant houses, packing shed, and an old depot.

McCaskill is proud of its record in having at least one good together a month where they use only milk recreation with some elvish endeavor. As an example, in January they held a square dance to raise money for the March of Dimes, and in February they had a St. Patrick's Day party to raise funds for the cancer drive.

Complete organization would most aptly describe this community for they are participating in operation sky watch with their ground observer corps, have their own news reporter to report activities, a photographer for pictures and other civic minded programs. They are organized on every kind of detail, no matter how small.

Judges for Southwest district were Dorothy Price, district home demonstration agent, Roy Lambert, Extension marketing specialists, and Harold A. Howell, Extension forester, all with the Agricultural Extension Service. Itinerary for state judging of RCI program.

Community Tolleville, Prairie county — February 19, Antioch, Craighead county — February 20, McCaskill, Hempstead county — February 26, Mount Comfort, Washington county — February 27.

Judging in each community is planned to start in the morning. However, in some cases this may not be possible. For further information as to the exact time the judges will arrive in each community, contact county agents in that particular county.

Civil Rights War Resumes Today
WASHINGTON (UP)—The tug of war over civil rights legislation resumes today on both sides of the Capitol.

Atty. Gen. Brownell was called as the first witnesses by a Senate Judiciary subcommittee starting hearings on President Eisenhower's proposals and many others for strengthening federal machinery to handle complaints concerning civil rights.

Opening of hearings by the subcommittee, headed by Sen. Hennings (D-Mo.), substitutes a relatively early start in the Senate. Because of the likelihood of a Southern filibuster there, proponents are struggling to bring the issue to a vote as early in the session as possible.

In the House, Chairman Celler (D-N.Y.) of the Judiciary subcommittee acceded to Southern insistence on more time to discuss the bills. But he said there positively will be no hearings after those he set for Feb. 25-26.

Wife Finally Given Divorce
LOS ANGELES (UP)—When Mrs. Gloria Jacobo sought a divorce last June, Superior Judge Burnett Wolfson told her to go home to her husband William, try a reconciliation for the sake of their two children, "and report back to me on St. Valentine's Day."

Mrs. Jacobo came back yesterday with this report: "We were reconciled. My husband promised to give up associating with a Mrs. Cloud. After a while he began seeing another woman named Mrs. Baxter."

She was granted a divorce and $500 alimony and child support. Had the reconciliation held, the judge was to have entertained them at dinner in his home today.

Segregation Bills Snag in Senate

LITTLE ROCK (UP)—Four segregation proposals which had breezed through House passage foundered in the Senate yesterday after an apparent tilt in administration forces.

Until Sen. Charles F. Smith of West Memphis brought up the first of the bills, it looked like a repeat of Tuesday—when the House passed the measures without a discussion or hearings.

Finally Senate voted 16-15 for a public hearing.

Smith was incensed. Asked by a newsmen if he thought the administration had "crossed him up," Smith replied: "I don't see what else could have happened."

At a news conference after the Senate session, Gov. Orval Faubus tried to clarify matters. He explained that the administration approved but did not sponsor the racial proposals. He said his immediate interest is to defend the bills against charges of "extremism."

Faubus said he was confident the measures would pass after the public hearings Monday. He declined to say whether he would sign them.

Smith said he was dropping the handling of the bills although he still intended to vote for them. Faubus said he would be happy to have Smith reconsider his withdrawal as floor leader.

Smith indicated that the governor's office had advised him to hold up the segregation bills for public hearings.

A hail of criticism had been aimed at the bills by several religious organizations, Negro groups and Whitehouse Rockefeller, chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission.

Rockefeller singled out a "proposal to create a State Sovereignty Commission for light integration as one that would 'legalize a potential Gestapo.'"

The three other proposals would require certain organizations to register with the commission, would remove compulsory attendance requirement if a school became integrated and would authorize use of school funds to fight integration suits.

Woman Has Bullet in Heart, Lives

Death hovers close. But surgeons last night said the 22-year-old Negro woman who lives near Foote, Miss., was in "very good" condition, everything considered.

A surgeon said that barring complications an operation to remove the bullet will be performed in about a week. She was shot last Saturday. The sheriff arrested Wiley Billups, her half-brother, in connection with the case.

The bullet passed through her right arm and chest into the heart, puncturing a lung on its way. The surgeon said the lung had to have time to recover from the insult before the bullet could be removed. In the meantime, he said, the heart may start leaking, complicating the problem of internal bleeding and (3) blood passing over the bullet may form clots.

It calls for high school integration after construction of a new high school, integration at the junior high school level years later and finally in grade schools. The plan is expected to take 10 to 12 years for completion.

"You were the girl he first fell in love with in kindergarten. You are the girl he also fell in love with in the 3rd grade at a different school. You are the girl he saved up and bought a .350 valentine for in the 6th grade.

"You are all the hundreds of girls he loved and lost."

Audrey told me a lot of things. About how she had been born of Irish-Dutch parents in Belltown, and how she had started work at 13 to help pay for her ballet lessons.

About how she had had to hide out from the Germans in Holland during the World War II.

About how thrilled she was to have achieved stardom young.

About how tired she was after making three pictures in a row.

About how she looked forward next to doing "The Nun's Story" but first there would be a long holiday in Switzerland with her actor husband, Mel Ferrer.

About the difficulty of combining the twin careers of being an actress and wife, but that "if you keep the scales in balance and remember your first job is to take proper care of your husband, it can work out merrily—certainly it has for us."

About how she worked so hard she had few hobbies. "I'm afraid I'm pretty dull. I like walking; music, from Bach to Duke Ellington; and reading. Kipling is one of my favorite writers."

She had to leave then to keep a luncheon engagement. As we said goodbye it seemed to me those pond-blue eyes were saying, "Surely we've met somewhere before. Don't you remember?"

That is the peculiar charm Audrey Hepburn has, and that guarantees her a multimillion-dollar future. To millions of men she is all the girls they loved—and lost—in the springtime of their youth.

All except that lucky Mel Ferrer.

UN to Get Compromise Algerian Plan

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The 27-nation Asian-African group was expected to go into the General Assembly today with a compromise plan aimed at ending French-Algerian strife in North Africa.

The Assembly's 80-nation top Political Committee voted earlier this week against Asian-African demands that France grant Algerians the right to determine their own future. It then approved two watered-down recommendations for French-Algerian talks to try to end the bloodshed. Neither one polled enough votes to assure it a two-thirds majority in the Assembly.

The committee voted 37-27 for a resolution by Japan the Philip-ines and Thailand declaring the Algerian situation "may be normalized by the joint efforts of France and the Algerian people to find an equitable solution."

The other adopted 41-33 recommended that the Assembly voice hope that a "peaceful and democratic solution" could be found, Argentina, Brazil, Cuba, Italy, Peru and the Dominican Republic.

DOROTHY DIX

Activity Can Wipe Out Memory of Old Flame

Dear Dorothy Dix: Soon after my first child was born, Keith and I separated. I met a charming man and fell in love with him. We went together for two years. Then my husband asked me to go back to him, and I agreed, mostly for the sake of our child.

We've been living together for two years, get along wonderfully well, have another child, and everything would be fine except that I can't forget the other man. He's on my mind day and night.

J.D.

Dear J.D.:—Your ready acceptance of Keith's efforts for reconciliation surely indicated that you still loved him. The fact that you've gotten along so well together proves it.

The best way to get rid of unwanted thoughts is to substitute constructive thinking for them. Housework in itself isn't a mental stimulation, but there are certain aspects of it that can be made to be. Interior decorating is one, needlework, sewing, fancy cooking are others. Turn to these, or something else that will keep your mind occupied, and you'll shoveled into the background.

Learn a special prayer, or make one up yourself, to say when you want to change the course of our thinking.

Get some useful, outside activity—teach a Sunday School class, participate in a fund-raising drive. Heave a feeling of accomplishment rather than one of futility. Keep the preservation of your marriage as your most important objective, and you'll soon forget the boy friend.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a woman in my fifties, and divorced. I have a man friend who lives out of town and comes to see me every week or so. When he's here, he sleeps at my house. My daughter lives with me and she says people talk if I let him come here for the night. Who is right?

ELMA

Dear Elma: Your daughter, most certainly! Park your cavalier in a motel.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Perry and I are juniors in high school, and very much in love. We'd like to get married now. His mother says we can live with her and finish school. My folks are dead set against the idea. Should we take advantage of his mother's offer, or wait?

CAROLE

Dear Carole: Wait! Algebra problems are enough for you now; let the marital problems wait awhile.

Says American Housewives Have It Easy

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Do American housewives have it easy?

Monique Van Vooren thinks so. Monique is a blonde Belgian chanteuse who has appeared in New York show and clubs and in movies here and in Italy. She's well put together (40-22-36), sings nicely, and can talk.

Such as: "Life is fantastically easy for wives in this country. They lead push-button lives. Their work is made easy by an infinite variety of gadgets, and they even have push-button husbands."

"In Europe, women devote their lives to their husbands. Here, it is the men who devote their lives to their wives. That is wonderful for the women, but it is going against nature."

"Woman was not meant to be the dominating force in a marriage. The man is supposed to be the master. I think that's why so many women are unhappy in this country; they are upset by the improper balance in their lives."

Monique, who is wailing at Mo-cambo these nights, said she felt American women are too susceptible to advertising urging them to acquire material things.

"They should concentrate less on buying new machines and more on keeping their husbands happy," she remarked. "European women don't care about the labor saving devices. They are accustomed to working long hours in the home, and they enjoy it. They feel they are helping their husbands and their family."

Most perfect—preserved historic cliff dwellings in the United States are at Mesa Verde in Colorado. They cover 51,023 acres.

public sponsored that one. Further U. N. action to get Israeli troops out of the Gaza Strip and the Sharm el Sheikh area of Egypt's Gulf of Aqaba coast still was stalled as U. N. diplomats waited word of Israel's reply to the new U. S. proposal on Israeli withdrawal.

An authoritative source in Jerusalem said Premier David Ben-Gurion and his Cabinet had instructed Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban to seek further clarification of Secretary of State Dulles' proposals.

The Israeli Cabinet was said to have agreed that the two-part American offer was a positive approach but still somewhat too general for the Israelis. Eban reportedly offered U. S. "support" for freedom of navigation through the Gulf of Aqaba and stationing of U. N. emergency forces in large numbers in the Gaza Strip.

News Briefs

TOKYO (UP)—Communist China held out the peace pipe to Japan today and invited Japanese Premier Tanzan Ishibashi and Foreign Minister Nobusuke Kishi to visit Peking.

The Japanese Kyodo News Service reported in a dispatch from Peking that Communist China's Premier Chou En-Lai extended the invitations in a meeting with a 42-member delegation of the leftist Federation of Japanese Teachers Union in Peking Thursday.

Chou told the delegates Red China would not join the United Nations as long as Nationalist China was a member.

He also said the Sino-Soviet amity pact was directed against the United States and not against Japan, the dispatch said.

Western diplomats here said Chou was indulging in a typical maneuver to create division in Japan and coax it away from the West.

The Communist premier returned to his capital this week from an interrupted tour of Asia.

LONDON (UP)—Princess Margaret enjoyed a rock 'n' roll movie so much last night she took her shoes off, propped her stockings on a rail and waved them in time to the music.

The princess, on the town for the third night in a row, went to see "The Girl Can't Help It," starring Jayne Mansfield and Tom Ewell.

The party included Billy Wallace and nine others.

DUBLIN (UP)—Jewish Lord Mayor Robert Briscoe pleaded yesterday to "promote the knowledge and the wisdom" of drinking Irish whiskey among Jews in the United States.

Briscoe, who will visit the United States next month, spoke at a meeting of the Irish Pot Still Distillers Association which is fighting to get a share of the U. S. whisky market held by Scotch distillers.

The largest collection of paintings in the State is the Little Rock Museum of Fine Arts, erected in 1937.

There were only 25 public schools in Arkansas in 1860. Free public schools for all children were instituted by the carpetbag government in 1862.

Optimism for Dock Strike Settlement

By RAY KOHN
NEW YORK (AP) Optimistic statements by both sides have raised hopes for speedy settlement of the dock strike idling ports from Maine to Virginia.

Spokesmen for union and management emerged from bargaining sessions last night in a more cheerful mood.

"With any reasonableness on the part of the union we can reach a contract tomorrow today," said Alexander Chopin, chairman of the New York Shipping Association, the employers group.

"I feel more optimistic, in view of all that happened during the day, that the matters outstanding will be resolved shortly," said Louis Waldman, counsel for the independent International Longshoremen's Association.

In addition Joseph Finegan, director of federal mediation, told newsmen the parties were "not very far apart."

The strike of some 45,000 dockers from Portland, Maine, to Hampton Roads, Va., began Tuesday after an 80-day Taft-Hartley injunction cooling-off period expired.

The strike straitjacketed the New York waterfront, already beset by a tugboat strike now in its 14th day.

By late yesterday the dock walkout had idled some 150 general cargo craft and some smaller passenger vessels.

The giant liner Queen Elizabeth, scheduled to dock here tomorrow, may be diverted to Halifax, N. S.

Before the strike, the IILA and the employers were in general agreement on a 32-cent hourly wage increase over three years in the basic wage of $2.48 an hour.

A dispute over fringe benefits such as vacations, holidays, guaranteed working hours and lighter shipping loads — is holding up final agreement.

Thought For The Day
A world without a Sabbath would be like a man without a wife, like a summer without flowers, and like a homestead without a garden. It is the joyous day of the whole week. — H. W. Beecher said it.

Ministerial Alliance Outlines Year's Work
The interdenominational Ministerial Alliance met at Bethel A. M. E. Church Saturday, February 9, at 10:00 a. m., with the President, Rev. J. E. Coby, presiding.

The President presented an outlined schedule of activities, which was readily accepted: i. e. meetings, Saturday before the second and fourth Sundays in each month at 10 a. m.; meetings will rotate; Banquet after each 4th meeting; Study Course, Rev. F. R. Williams was selected as instructor.

The First Quarter of study will be "The Life and Teaching of Christ."

Several Hundred Attend District Meet At Shorter
The Two-State Ministers and Lay Leaders' Council of the AME Church, with Bishop Sherman L. Greene, the distinguished Senior Bishop of the denomination, and Presiding Bishop of the 12th Episcopal District, which comprises Arkansas-Oklahoma, met at Shorter College, and Bethel A. M. E. Church, North Little Rock, Arkansas, Tuesday, February 12.

The several hundred churchmen from the two states and many visitors present were completely saturated as they listened to a most thought-provoking and dynamic sermon delivered by Bishop Frederick Douglas Jordan, Presiding Bishop of the 5th Episcopal District.

Several other ministers and layworkers served on a panel and made inspirational speeches.

Bishop Greene announced that the 12th Episcopal District was the recipient of a gift of $50,000.00 on the building program which will get underway as soon as contractors complete the job of raising Tyree Hall to make way for this beautiful and spacious building.

A total of 25,185.95 was reported by Presiding Elders of the District. This was the first quarterly report to the General Board as set up by the 35th session of the General Conference which was held in Miami, Florida in May, 1956.

Persons attending this meeting from Bethel A. M. E. Church, Hope, were Rev. J. S. Morgan, Pastor, and Mrs. E. L. Hicks, YPD Supervisor of the West Arkansas Conference.

Lonoke Officer Shot in Head
LONOKE Police Chief John Eagle was found critically wounded today from a pistol bullet fired into his head.

Sheriff Warren C. Minton said Eagle was found seated in his patrol car parked in an alley here.

Eagle, 41, has served as chief of police here about 10 years. He recently has been in poor health.

The chief was taken to a Little Rock hospital.

"You keep saying it's your brother," Morgan stiffened. "You've asked me that before. I'm on the side of what's right. This isn't your town any more, Joe."

STRIKES HOME—United Mine Workers President John L. Lewis, who knows a bit about how strikes can tie things up, looks on impassively from the deck of the liner United States as the vessel is warped to her New York pier without benefit of tugs. Lewis and other passengers aboard were delayed an hour because tugboat strike forced the 53,329-ton liner's skipper Capt. John W. Anderson, to the dangerous expedient of docking her unassisted.

SPECTATOR SPORT—Grinny determined to prove his skill as a matador, an excited spectator leaped into Mexico City's Plaza Mexico arena to challenge the bull. Above, he executes a dangerous pass while on his knees as the charging animal thunders past. Often, young spectators, with no experience, but carried away by enthusiasm, leap into the ring. If they escape being gored, they are hauled off by the police for an automatic 15-day jail term or a $40 fine.

THE STORY: A movement has started to form a city government in the cow trail town of Pawnee City to bring law and order. Joe Jagger, one of the founders, refuses to go along with the idea. Chad Morgan listens, but leaves the meeting when he is asked to keep the proceedings secret.

CHAPTER XVIII

Jagger was in the Drovers Hotel, chewing an unlighted cigar, when Morgan entered. "I didn't stay."

"What do you mean, you didn't stay?" growled Jagger. "You were still there when I left."

"They wanted me to keep confidential anything they said. I didn't feel that I could do that."

Jagger gave Morgan an odd look. "You're a queer duck, sometimes. Confidential . . . ha!" He took out a match, lighted the cigar.

"I think they are going to form a town government."

"They wouldn't dare."

"Don't count on that."

"But they can't start a government, Chad. The two of us own his town. We'd be fools to let them say so-and-so's mayor, so-and-so's judge."

"Are you sure, Joe? We did own it. But we sold a lot of property to the merchants came in, they brought in workers. If it came to a vote, we'd be swamped."

"Isn't that the way people are elected—to office?"

"How should I know? I'm no lawyer," Jagger grunted. "You were going to study law. I never had any use for lawyers and that's one thing we can do without in this town. Let's see what Helen's got to say about this government business."

Helen Jagger had already heard them in the lobby and was coming out of the office toward them.

"Helen," began Jagger, "Chad and me've just been to a little meeting up the street."

Helen looked at him sharply, then suddenly shifted to Chad Morgan. "I don't understand."

"The merchants objected to what happened yesterday," said Morgan. "They want law and order in Pawnee City."

"Nobody got hurt yesterday," growled Jagger. "Nobody's going to get hurt."

"Tom Alder killed a man night before last," roared Morgan. "That was a fight—a fair fight. Two men were killed the day, the first herd came into town. Morgan went on. 'One of them was lynched by a mob.' 'Whose side are you on, any way?'"

Morgan stiffened. "You've asked me that before. I'm on the side of what's right. This isn't your town any more, Joe."

"Your town?" snapped Jagger. "Your town?"
